

CONSENT OF THE GOVERNED.

How It Is Done in the State of Virginia
Ballot a Riddle.

Washington Correspondence of the Globe-Democrat.

Each member of Congress has received a facsimile copy of the official ballot furnished voters in the Ninth district of Virginia. Not since the almost forgotten days of the "tissue" paper used in the reconstruction period has there been anything so well calculated to deceive. The same kind of type is used throughout. Punctuation is in part omitted. The ticket bears no resemblance to the forms known in Northern States. Names and offices are "run in" line after line, without any division. There are no column rules. At first glance the sheet is apparently a confused mass of names and numbers. After some study it can be made out that the Republican electoral ticket occupies one-half of the first column, and the Bryan electors the other half. Then comes the Debs electoral ticket at the head of the second column, and immediately after it the Democratic nominee for Congress. The Social Labor electoral nominees follow, and then at the top of the third column is the Wharton Barker Populist ticket. About the middle of the last column the ballot runs like this:

for Tenth district for representative of the ninth congressional district of Virginia
in the Fifty-seventh Congress of the United States
James A. Walker
for President of the United States
John G. Wooley

Then follows the Prohibition electoral ticket, completing this astonishing ballot. The whole sheet is a confusing jumble, without paragraphs or spaces to separate the several tickets, and with the Republican nominee for Congress hidden where his name might be overlooked. This exhibit of Southern election methods is bound to be heard from in the next Congress. Walker succeeded Stonewall Jackson in command of that famous brigade. He was a Confederate officer who made a record for bravery. Some years ago he became a Republican, and was elected to Congress from the Southwest Virginia district. Two years ago he was apparently defeated upon the face of the returns, and when he contested he was shot and desperately wounded. This year he ran again, and such devices as this ballot illustrates were employed to defeat him.

In a letter to members of Congress accompanying the sample ballot Gen. Walker writes: "I ask as a favor that you take the time to examine it critically. Under the Virginia law, the official ballot is prepared by the electoral board in provision of the law which makes it a penal offense to 'disclose the form, size or contents thereof,' so that the voter is kept in total darkness until he goes into the booth to prepare his ballot. He is allowed only two and one-half minutes to prepare his ballot, and this compels nine-tenths of the voters to call on the Democratic judges designated to assist the voter in preparing his ballot, which he, the voter, is not permitted to show to any person after it is prepared, under severe penalties. In view of these facts it need create no surprise that while Virginia is Republican by 30,000 majority, she is counted Democratic by 30,000 or 40,000, and that while the Ninth congressional district gave the Republican national ticket about 2,500 majority, the Republican candidate for Congress was counted out by 1,700, a difference of 4,200 votes. The election officers could afford to give the national ticket a fair vote in the Ninth district, because there was no danger of the electoral vote of the State being lost to Bryan and Stevenson, while it was well known that the Republican candidate for Congress would be elected if he was given the votes intended for him."

HENDERSON GLEANER

Sized Up Hopkins County Mining Situation About Right.

From the Henderson Gleaner of Sunday, November 25.
"President Mitchell, of the United Mine workers of America and under officials—if the Gleaner is correctly informed—are proceeding along a line that will bring more trouble than has ever been anticipated by them. The people of Hopkins county are wedged to the great mining interests of the county, and whether right or wrong stand ready at a blowing of a horn or the firing of a gun to appear armed and equipped for any trouble that may come up. They have been tried and never found wanting and any interference with what they consider the companies' rights or the wishes of the miners becomes a personal matter with them and they stand ready to resent. One thousand men if necessary will respond promptly to a call from Earlinton or Madisonville in defense of the mines or miners. President Mitchell will find an entirely different element to contend with in Hopkins county from that confronting him in the anthracite country of Pennsylvania last month. If the Madisonville and Earlinton miners are satisfied and decline going out on a strike President Mitchell will pursue the proper course by withholding any further molestation of their liberty. As sure as there is an attempt to have armed marching clubs moving over the highways of the county or the streets of Madisonville and Earlinton there is going to be trouble and much of it. The Mayor of the two towns and the sheriff of the county have announced publicly that they will have none of it and the Gleaner is mistaken in its estimate of these officials if serious trouble does not follow the attempt. Any effort to force the miners into a strike will not be tolerated and any attempt in that direction will be the merest foolhardiness.

It appears that the miners and operators have been getting along happily and harmoniously together that the miners are satisfied and do not desire the interference of the mine workers, on the other hand it appears that the object of President Mitchell is to force the operators to agree to terms they do not look upon with favor and terms not desired or required by the two thousand or more men in their employ. There is no telling what is to come of it, it all hinges upon the action of the miners. If they go out on a strike Monday that will settle it. If they refuse and an effort is made to force them, look out for trouble, for in the latter case the male population of Hopkins and much of it from adjoining counties will be found standing shoulder to shoulder with the mine operators. It is to say the least an ugly and decidedly dangerous complication.

A MINER'S VIEW.

Crabtree Miner Writes About Mine Workers and Agitators.

NO COMFORT FOR THE DISTURBERS

Isley, Ky., Dec. 3, 1900.—Mr. Editor: Please give me a small space in your paper to tell what we think of the United Mine Workers.

We find in Jim Wood's great speech where he says we are not getting but 70 cents per ton for mining coal in Hopkins county. We want to tell Woods that is like everything else he has told. Let him come to Crabtree, and he will find that he has told something that everybody knows is not so. He and his force seem to take a great interest in the welfare of the miners of Hopkins county. We are able to run our business without the United Mine Workers or Woods either. We want to choose our guardian if we need one. The miners of Hopkins county have never dug coal at two cents, and the operators have never wanted us to, but the organized men have. That is all the trouble that has been in the county for years, and we don't want any of Woods kind in the county, for they will not tell the truth, and will work for less wages than anybody, and for that reason we don't want them in the county. We are getting 75 cents per ton for our coal and get all we dig, and don't need any check weigher, for by the time we paid him and then paid our dues and all the assessments, and five cents off of every dollar we made, we would not have any money. We would soon look like the Boxtown tramps, with the flag of distress sticking out of the seat of our breeches, and living on half rations.

THE HUGE BANQUET IN PARIS.
Paris, as everybody knows, is famous for large and unusual doings. She kept up her reputation in the recent banquet tendered by President Loubet to the mayors of all the cities and towns in France. There were present at the banquet 25,000 chief executives of French towns. They ranged in age from 20 to 90 and in get-up from the styles of Noah's time to the latest French fashion. All France reined the affair a grand and glorious success, and President Loubet, who has received many evidences of French disapproval since he assumed the presidency, believes the success of the banquet of the present year in the banquet. The illustration shows the superintendent of the banquet traveling through the immense dining hall in an automobile directing the preparations for the colossal spread.

It is time for the good people to fear such men as these and get the county rid of them at once. The men at Crabtree will not work among them, and Jim Woods will have to tell the truth and go to work, for we will not give him anything. He wants the miners of Hopkins county to turn their families outdoors. We will not do that. We think more of our families than we do of Jim Woods. We have heard the wind blow long ago. We are making good wages, and do not want to be bothered, for we are too busy to waste any time with such cattle as that gang of tramps.

SEPARATE COACH LAW.

United States Supreme Court Affirms the Kentucky Courts.

Washington, Dec. 3.—The Kentucky State law requiring railroad companies in that State to provide separate coaches for colored passengers was made the subject of an opinion in the United States Supreme Court today, the case being that of the Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad Company vs. the State of Kentucky. It came to this court from the Kentucky court of Appeals. The opinion was handed down by Justice Brown, and the Kentucky court's judgment in favor of the State was affirmed. Justice Brown stated that in this case the railroad company had attacked the statute on the ground that it was unconstitutional, and that it was an interference with interstate commerce. Without replying specifically to this objection the Justice said there is a sufficient compliance with the law if a separate coach for local colored passengers is attached to the train while passing through the State.

The Court of Appeals of Kentucky had itself, he said, relieved this court of the necessity of passing upon the question as to whether the law required a separate coach for interstate passengers of color.

Justice Harlan dissented, stating his opinion to be that the law is an interference with interstate commerce, and also taking the position that the Kentucky Legislature has no right to classify citizens by color in railway coaches.

BETTER TIME

To Be Made Over Louisville, Henderson & St. Louis Railroad.

The Louisville, Henderson & St. Louis railway placed new mail cranes on its entire system yesterday in order that better time may be made by all through trains.

Beginning with Sunday, this road will put a new time card into effect on its through trains, which will considerably lessen the running time between Louisville and St. Louis. While the changes have not been decided upon yet, it is probable that the morning train will leave Louisville at 8:10, twenty-five minutes later than heretofore, and the evening train will reach that city about 7:10 instead of 7:45.

Knowledge without justice ought to be called cunning rather than wisdom.

SHOCKING SUICIDE.

Mrs. Ed. White, near Hopkinsville, Cuts Her Throat.

Clarksville, Tenn., Dec. 3.—Mrs. Ed White, aged twenty-five years, committed suicide tonight by cutting her throat with a razor at Oak Grove farm, eight miles out on the Hopkinsville pike. She was a refined and highly educated lady. Ill health and a mortgage sale of her husband's property today caused her to do so. She died this morning at 2:30 o'clock. She was Miss Flora Withers, formerly a beautiful Union county belle, the daughter of a well-known minister.

Catholics Favor Holding Philippines.

The Rev. William D. McKinnon, a priest of California, who has been made a chaplain in the United States army by President McKinley, has written a letter to another Catholic army chaplain, in which he deals at some length with the situation in the Philippines from a Roman Catholic standpoint.

Father McKinnon does not hesitate to defend the administration from the attacks upon it by some other Catholics in this country, who have charged that it has acted in the Philippines in antagonism to the church's interests. The priest declares Archbishop Chapelle, the apostolic delegate to the Philippines, and the Archbishop of Manila share his views.

The Rev. E. J. Vattman, the Catholic chaplain at Fort Sheridan, Ill., to whom the letter was written, has just made it public. Father McKinnon says in part:

"You ask me what would be the future of the church there, provided that there were a change in the administration. In conversation with the Archbishop of Manila one day I asked him what he thought would be the effect on religion if the Americans were to withdraw and leave the islands to the Filipinos. He threw up his hands and said he dreaded to even contemplate such a catastrophe, and he believed the only hope for religion in the archipelago was for America to retain possession there. I might add that more than once I heard Archbishop Chapelle, the apostolic delegate, express the same opinion.

"In the first session of Aguinaldo's Congress they passed a law confiscating all church property and expelling all priests. Not only that, but they showed by their actions they meant to enforce this law, as they imprisoned every priest they could get their hands on. We succeeded in releasing from their hands over 400 of these unfortunates. All were worked in chain gangs on the road, having on their backs placards bearing the most insulting inscriptions."

Sermon to Deaf Mutes.

A unique sermon was preached by Rev. A. W. Mann at St. Paul's Church, Cincinnati, last Sunday evening to a congregation of deaf mutes. It was the occasion of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the founding of St. Mark's Deaf Mute Mission, of which Rev. Mr. Mack is the founder.

To those fortunate enough to be possessed of all their faculties the sermon made a deep impression, as it was evident that Rev. Mr. Mann was touching upon the subjects of the most vital importance.

THREATENED WITH GUN

Tom Clemons, a Union Miner, Wants to Shoot Sanford Morris, a Working Miner.

Difficulty Happened at Hamby Station—Warrant for Clemons' Arrest.

There is a warrant out for the arrest of Tom Clemons for flourishing a gun and threatening to shoot Sanford Morris, a thrifty colored miner employed at Carbondale. Tom lost his job last spring by undertaking to help take charge of the business of the Carbondale Coal Company. He is brother-in-law to Tom Cates, whose brief visit to Lakeside Park last 4th of July is remembered here, and who was said then to have undertaken to organize St. Charles and Crabtree. It seems that Morris went to Hamby Station to trade and spend his money. He was approached by Clemons who attempted to "argify" in favor of the United Mine Workers. It is said that Morris held up his end of the argument so well that Clemons became enraged and jerked a shot gun out of the hands of another man, flourished it around and threatened to shoot Morris, calling him vile names. Others who stood by prevented any shooting and Morris had a warrant sworn out Tuesday for the arrest of Clemons. Hamby Station or "Boxtown" has become so unpleasant that the miners employed nearby are some of them afraid to go there to trade and business there is said to be dull in consequence.

MASONIC TEMPLE

Inside Framing of the Opera House Part Nearing Completion.

The new Masonic Temple and Opera House is being pushed along at a good rate now. The frame work on the inside for the balcony is about complete, and brick laying for the second story walls will begin perhaps tomorrow.

The Opera House is so arranged that it can be made very attractive and comfortable by interior decoration and seating. The stage is quite commodious and will accommodate scenery for any entertainment that is on the road for cities of Earlinton's size. The building itself will be an imposing one and a credit to the town.

The secret orders of the town are looking forward with pleasure to the completion of the commodious and convenient rooms which will occupy the second floor.

A meeting of the stockholders will be held in a few days to complete the organization of the stock company and make final arrangements as to directory and officials of the Masonic Temple Company.

AGITATOR JAILED.

Was Drunk and Disorderly at Carbondale—Arrested for Breach of the Peace.

Hamp McIntosh, who lives in Providence, took it into his head that he ought to do missionary work at Carbondale for the United Mine Workers. Into his stomach a quantum sufficit of red wine at Carbondale Monday evening caused him to get so drunk that he did not want to be in the penitentiary, and he fled into the night.

Into the penitentiary he was taken on Monday morning.

DAWSON TO BE ADDED.

Cumberland Telephone Company Will Put Dawson on Earlington Exchange.

PRINCETON AND OTHER TOWNS REACHED.

In an interview with George Neal, manager for the Cumberland Telephone Co.'s local exchange of Earlington and Madisonville, THE BEE learned that important additions are to be made soon to these exchanges. The wires of that company have been brought into Dawson Springs from Princeton, connecting with Marion and other West Kentucky towns, and will be extended to Paducah. From Dawson Springs the lines will be brought through to Earlington and connected with the local exchange and handled by the Earlington operator. This will extend the free service which is now enjoyed by subscribers to the local exchanges here and at Madisonville, to cover Dawson Springs, as well as give direct connection to Princeton and other points in the end of the State. A number of new subscribers have also been added at both Earlington and Madisonville, the list now reaching more than three hundred.

A REMARKABLE CONVENTION.

Despite the Weather, the Young Men's Christian Association Convention Was a Success.

MR. EDITOR: Your readers who are interested in the welfare of Hopkins county will rejoice to know the second annual convention for the Young Men's Christian Association work in the county, held at Hanson, Nov. 23-25, was a decided success. Notwithstanding the continuous downpour of rain from the first session to the last, the program was carried out in the most satisfactory manner and the attendance was good. Among the speakers from a distance were Messrs. C. C. Stoll, of Louisville, and Geo. H. Cox, of Owensboro, members of the State Executive Meeting; Henry E. Bower and John Lake, Secretaries of the State Executive Committee; C. R. Boucher, General Secretary at Owensboro; T. B. Latham, County Secretary of Muhlenberg County; and Max Weir, a prominent association worker at Greenville. Among the speakers residing in the county were Secretary Howard Caldwell, Messrs. R. B. Ashby, T. C. O'Bryan and R. M. Hall.

The following delegates went from Madisonville, besides visitors: Howard Caldwell, R. M. Hall, J. W. Wells, W. T. Mills, John Arnold, Will Patterson, Will Gooch, Chester Slaton, Cliff Slaton, T. C. O'Bryan, B. R. Ashby. Of course there would have been a much larger attendance but for the unfavorable conditions mentioned. The report of the year's work which was presented by Chairman Bailey was very favorably received and the Convention recommended the continuance of the work during the coming year, including the employment of a County Secretary for his entire time. The following members of the County Executive Committee, to serve for the ensuing year, were elected: I. Bailey, Chairman; J. G. H. Hall, B. R. Ashby, R. M. Hall, Ben Plain, P. M. Moore, R. B. Bourland, W. J. Lamb, W. H. Weir, J. S. Waller, and G. F. Brown.

Besides the business sessions on Friday and Saturday morning, afternoon and night, the following meetings were held on Sunday: One for men only at 8:30 in the morning, with an attendance of 23; one for men only in the afternoon, with an attendance of 50, at which there were five requests for prayer and one decision for Christ; a meeting for ladies, with an attendance of 40, at which the work of the Association was presented; and a meeting for boys under fifteen with an attendance of fifteen. Different delegates spoke in the various Sunday Schools, and the pastors and members of the Christian Church, who gave the 11 o'clock service over to visiting delegates, and at night a union service was held in the Methodist Church, which was well attended, and was very impressive. Altogether, the Convention was a decided success and it is believed a new life has been infused into the workers, and that during the year a splendid work will be done for the spiritual and intellectual improvement of the people of Hopkins County.

DOWN IN THE MINES.

The United Mine Workers chief object so far as the strike ordered by them in this and adjoining counties seems to be to mislead or deceive the outside reader as to the true state of affairs. Last week when five of the men at work at the Sibree mine came out in sympathy with the agitators had reported circulated through the press that the miners of that place were out and that they had gained a victory. The truth is the miners at work there are well satisfied, with no cause of complaint and plenty of work. Even the presence of the colored agitator Campbell, who has long ago ceased to be laborers either in or out of the mine, has no effect on them. The mine operators treat them kindly and pay them well and regularly and therefore no discontent exists. In fact it is and should be hard work at good wages. But there is a reason for practicing this deception. The money they live off of and carry on their nefarious work with comes from the pockets of the mine workers throughout the United States. And to encourage them to still dive down in their pockets and support the large army of agitators in the field such tales or falsehoods must be spread broadcast. By this means thousands of dollars are being taken away from the innocent miners in other States.

Men who desire to work at good wages are plentiful as far as making plain last week when six of the Oak Hill miners who had become too closely associated with the agitators, makers, quit work and eight others applied at once for their places. When miners desire to labor evil influences have no effect on them. The promise of free soap or hair cream is no inducement to the man who loves his family better than he does the fellow who talks for money. They take the word of the operator who comes forward with the cash, rather than he who makes false promises.

To the man who learns by observation it seems as if the St. Bernard Company were either increasing their force or the men were working harder than ever as last week at the mines big work was done. One day No. 11 broke all records of the past two years by the increased amount of coal mined.

F. B. Harris, of South Diamond, says his men are standing in the coal colors and are determined to no outside interference will be tolerated. So it is with all the St. Bernard miners. The miners here have plenty of work at good wages and are in no hurry to be approached by the meddlers.

A quieter town than Earlington cannot be found anywhere, yet the men who come here to interfere in any way with our contented people find that this is not a desirable place for them to locate. Our workmen don't want outsiders to dictate to them what they shall do when both work and money is plentiful.

The farmers of this county must readily see that it is to their interest when possible to turn a deaf ear to the U. M. W. Steady work and good pay is a blessing to a farmer as well as to a coal miner. They are the grain and vegetable producers and a good market is what they need, and what they always have as long as the miners prosper for no class of laborers live better than the miner when his purse will permit. Destroy the prosperity of the coal producer and away the farmers' market goes.

Most of the miners here worked on Thanksgiving day as the demand for coal required it. They are a faithful class of laborers who take into consideration the interests of the operator and the public as well as their own.

Not a mine was idle in Hopkins county last Saturday. Yet the U. M. W. said they had four tied up. They must have meant some country mine where they work a force of one man to the mine and who generally takes Saturday off.

The threats and intimidations of the idlers at Barney had no effect on the men on guard there consisting of Messrs. Toombs and Lester and even they failed to keep up their songs of derision when they were informed their supply of cheap fuel would be cut off if they persisted in their abuse.

The Princeton Chronicle, as below quoted, spoke to the effect that the Hopkins county trouble with the U. M. W. yet there is no evidence of the truth of the statement here made that the operators who work union men have any interest in the strike. "For several days past the United Mine Workers of America have been working hard attempting to get the miners of Hopkins county to join the strike and come out against the operators."

tion to the order and continued at work, which they had a perfect right to do if the wages they were receiving suited them.

It is said that the operators of Hopkins county pay good wages and that they and their men get along nicely without any assistance from the union agitators. They want no interference from that source. As to the truth of this we do not know, but we do know that the encouragement the miners received to come out on this strike was from union miners in other towns and from union operators who expected to profit by the strike in the increased price of coal and that the $30,000 per month that the miners were to receive to support them during their strike was to come from union miners elsewhere who donated it solely because their employers, the rival wages in case the strike in Hopkins county was brought about, as they could then get more for their coal and pay better wages. We do not doubt the honesty and sincerity of either the union or the non-union miners, but it does seem that the union operators are acting rather dirty and working only for their own selfish interests—not caring what becomes of Hopkins county's miners nor how much the poor people of this country shall be compelled to pay for their coal in the bad winter coming."

The St. Bernard Coal Co. believe in the free-abiding at which they practice what they preach, therefore it is quite natural that they should see that their men are protected in the right to labor without being molested.

The thousands of dollars were paid to the employees of the St. Bernard Coal Co. last week. Of course this is a heart-breaking fact to the U. M. W., who would like to see them poorly paid and poorly fed so that the seeds of discord they are trying to sow among them would have some effect.

It is pleasing to note that not only the city officials but the sheriff as well has taken steps to protect the business and the miners in pursuing their labor against the false doctrines advocated by the U. M. W.

Monterey, Mexico, Nov. 20.—On account of the large number of miners in carrying on a legitimate business and the miners in pursuing their labor against the false doctrines advocated by the U. M. W.

Soon after the smelters were started in this city they received the bulk of their coal and coke supply from Great Britain. But on account of the advance of coal and coke in that country they had to look to the United States for their supply, and for the past six or eight years they have been receiving their supplies of coal and coke from Alabama and West Virginia. But what confronts them now is the inability of the railroads, starting wars to haul the goods to this country. If there are not more coal mines opened and developed in the Coalfield coal district many manufacturing industries will have to close down."

WHY MRS. PINKHAM

Is Able to Help Sick Women When Doctors Fail.

How gladly would men fly to woman's aid did they understand a woman's feelings, trials, sensibilities, and peculiar organic disturbances. Those things are known only to women, and the aid a woman would give is not at his command.

To treat a case properly it is necessary to know all about it, and full information, many times, cannot be given by a woman to her family physician.

Mrs. G. H. CHAFFELL.

Mean. She cannot bring herself to tell everything, and the physician is at a constant disadvantage. This is why, for the past twenty-five years, thousands of women have been cured of their troubles by Mrs. Pinkham, and whose advice has brought happiness and health to countless women in the United States.

Mrs. Chaffell, of Grant Park, Ill., whose portrait we publish, advises suffering women to seek Mrs. Pinkham's advice and use Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as they cured her of inflammation of the ovaries and womb; also, therefore, speaks from knowledge and her experience ought to give others confidence. Mrs. Pinkham's address is Lynn, Mass., and her advice is absolutely true.

NEW DEPOT PLATFORM.

Trains Will Clear Main Street Crossing When Stoppage at Depot.

Work on foundations for our new depot platform has begun. The water crane south of the station is to be moved further south so that passenger trains will clear the crossing when stop is made. Slack coal is used for platform foundations and this will be covered by a thick coat of limestone screenings will soon cement itself together like a pavement. Instructions have been given to bank the rear of the platform foundations with earth and cover this with soil. The new station is receiving the finishing touches from painters and carpenters and will be ready for occupancy in a few days.

FIRE AT EVANSVILLE

Burned Mesker's Iron Works and the Vulcan Plow Factory

Immense loss by fire is reported from Evansville where early Tuesday morning Mesker's Iron Works and the Vulcan Plow factory were destroyed. One fireman was killed. The property loss is very large as both concerns were imports at plants. The Mesker people had large uncompleted orders for galvanized and cast iron building materials and their loss is serious.

Killed Deer.

The Christian Church Hunting Club returned yesterday from their annual three weeks' hunt in Arkansas. They found all kinds of game very plentiful and succeeded in killing ten deer, a large number of geese, ducks, quail, squirrels, opossums and raccoons. Fairly good weather prevailed during their stay and the hunt proved one of the most successful ever experienced since the club was organized.—Hopkinsville Kentuckian.

THURSDAY, DECEMBER 6, 1900.

We heartily endorse the proposition to keep in the city of Louisville permanent headquarters open for the state organization of Republican party. There is nothing like eternal vigilance.

ANNOUNCEMENTS for jailer and other county offices, which the Hopkins County Democrats want next year, are coming thick and fast. The Bee suggests that the jail be divided several times to accommodate the many applicants.

The Louisville Commercial is doing better since the return to its staff of Col. Walter Forrester as managing editor. Col. Forrester knows a newspaper when he sees one and with the necessary facilities he can make the Commercial the newspaper it ought to be.

TWENTY-EIGHT hundred and eight Filipinos have surrendered to Gen. Samuel B. M. Young at Santa Maria, and the oath of allegiance was administered by the padre at the church with impressive ceremonies. These Filipinos had heard that their friend Bryan was defeated.

Some of the things said about Hopkins county miners and operators in the special dispatches to certain daily papers are too willful and despicable to notice. These fabrications have no effect on the intelligent people of the county but convey false impressions to people at a distance. It is vexing to any good citizen to see facts with reference to his section lied about daily but such vicious misrepresentation must react upon its perpetrators.

The Sioux City Journal has discovered some hope for the future of Kentucky in the result of the recent "call" for a strike among the thrifty and prosperous miners of Hopkins county. It says:

"Kentucky certainly is a queer old State. When the president of the United Mine Workers ordered a strike the miners in Hopkins county carried their full dinner pails to work with them as usual the next day. They were unreasonable enough to insist that they were well satisfied with their conditions, and saw no reason for striking. With such a precedent established it is possible that the walking delegate may find himself under the painful necessity of having to go to work one of these days."

Col. Lige Schreer.

The Louisville Commercial has this to say about the man who sacrificed his candidacy for Congress in the second district for the "good of his party":

If Kentucky is to be divided into two judicial districts, Col. Lige Schreer would make an admirable district attorney. He has borne the brunt of many hard battles with the political enemy in his end of the State, leading hopeless battles so that the party organization might be strengthened. In the Legislature he has been a stalwart.

Long service in the State, unquestioned capacity and proven loyalty.

THE DUKE OF MANCHESTER.

William Angus Deepo Montagu, whose marriage to Miss Helena Zimmerman, the Cincinnati heiress, made one of the late seasons in London, is the ninth Duke of Manchester. The duke is 23 years of age and he is expected to have traveled at a pretty swift pace for the past five or six years. His mother was Countess Tennyson, of Havantwood, La.

eral judicial districts, and Ex-senator William Henry Jones, who recently retired from the Congressional race for the good of his party in the Third, is said to be after the new United States Marshalship. Doctor James will retain his office as marshal.

Upon the proposition to keep permanent headquarters in Louisville for the Republican State Organization, Ex-state Treasurer Long is quoted as saying: "I consider it imperative that we should not close our headquarters. There is to be a fight next year, and while it is largely local in character, we should have a place always open for the receiving and distributing of political information. It is the only way to prevent an organization from falling to pieces between campaigns."

Among those mentioned for the new Federal Judgeship, in case Kentucky is given another Federal district, are Judge Tinsley, of Barbourville, and Judge Cochran, of Maysville.

It is not believed there is anything in the talk of an attempted contest of the election of Hon. E. C. O'Rear to the Court of Appeals on account of alleged irregularities. And it seems certain that nothing can be made by Democrats who would contest out of the alleged redistricting of that district which has already been declared void by the Court of Appeals.

It is reported that Dr. Williams, Republican candidate for Congress in the Eighth district, will contest the seat of Geo. Gilbert on the ground that he was defeated by unlawful gerrymandering.

Total Loss Defined.

Frankfort, Ky., Dec. 4.—The Court of Appeals today, in affirming the case of the Palatine and Merchants Insurance Companies vs. Carrie Weiss, etc., from Louisville, in defining the meaning of the term, total loss, say:

"It is not necessary that all parts and materials composing the building should be absolutely and physically destroyed, but the inquiry always is, does the building after the fire still exist, or has it become so broken and disintegrated that it can not be designated as the structure which was insured. There may be a total loss even though some parts of the building remain standing after the fire."

Judge Burnam delivered the opinion.

Lead and Zinc.

Marion, Ky., Dec. 4.—The quality of lead and zinc ore taken from the mines here has aroused inquiry from foreign markets, apparently existing that the market will be affected by the situation. Lead, zinc and galena are being mined in the area.

Claimed Everything.
The Democrats claimed the German vote, and lost it; they claimed the farmer vote, and lost it; they claimed the labor vote and lost it; in fact, they have had to quit-claim about everything they had on hand at the beginning of the campaign.

Does it Pay to Buy Cheap.

A cheap remedy for coughs and colds is all right, but you want something that will relieve and cure the more severe and dangerous results of throat and lung troubles. What shall you do? Go to a warmer and more regular climate? Yes, if possible, if not possible for you, then in either case take the only remedy that has been introduced in our civilized countries with success in severe throat and lung troubles, "Booshee's German Syrup." It not only heals and stimulates the tissues to destroy the germ disease, but allays inflammation, causes easy expectoration gives a good night's rest, and cures the patient. Try one bottle. It is recommended many years by all druggists in the world. For sale by dealers in all civilized countries.

Question Answered.

Yes, August Flower still has the largest sale of any medicine in the civilized world. Your mothers and grandmothers never thought of anything else for Indigestion or Biliousness. Doctors were scarce, they seldom heard of Appendicitis, Nervous Prostration or Heart failure, etc. They used August Flower to clean out the system and stay fermentation of undigested food, regulate the action of the liver, stimulate the nervous and organic action of the system, and that is all they took when feeling dull and bad with headaches and other aches. You only need a few doses of Green's August Flower. In liquid form, to make you satisfied there is nothing serious the matter with you. For sale by St. Bernard drug store.

A piece of flannel dampened with Chamberlain's Pain Balm and bound to the affected parts is superior to any plaster. One application gives relief. For sale by St. Bernard Drugstore, Earlinton; Ben T. Robinson, Morton; Gap; George King, St. Charles.

FARM GARDEN

NEW SPRAYING DEVICE.

Compressed Air Power Does Excellent Work With Horseless Mixture.

A new wrinkle in spraying with horseless mixture is the use of compressed air, which a Pennsylvania farmer describes in Rural New York as follows: The first cut shows the manner of charging the air tanks, while the second shows the machine in operation. The rig is perhaps a little expensive, but it does the work fast—just as fast as you wish to do the hard work is a thing of the past. The entire outfit consists of a two horsepower gasoline engine, an air compressor mounted on a one horse wagon and two two-wheeled carts carrying the air and mixture tanks. Each cart is supposed to carry two tanks of 50 to 100 gallons each. The photo shows three tanks. I have intended to use a small tank for air

CHARGING AIR TANKS BY MACHINERY. Having the initial pressure 200 pounds, but in practice I found it better to have more air space and lower pressure, so I added another tank. The two tanks are connected together by one-quarter inch gas pipe and shut off valve. Each tank has a steam gauge to show at what pressure the air is under pressure inside it. One tank has a hose connection with common union coupling to attach it to air compressor. The other tank has a large pipe connected at bottom. This pipe turns up behind the tank and terminates with a large valve-reducing valve. Near the turn of the large pipe is a tee connection having attached two lines of hose, as shown in the picture. Of course more lines can be connected if thought best. The energy is stored before commencing work, so the number of nozzles used has no bearing on the quality of the work done.

The carts are very simple affairs, homemade; two wheels with three cross-pieces all bolted together, with the tanks strapped to the front. The first picture shows how the engine and air pump are mounted on a heavy one horse wagon so as to be easily moved to any point where it is most convenient to water to fill spray tank. Operation is as follows: One cart is backed up to the compressor, as shown in first picture. The hose is connected (about ten seconds' work) and engine started. The operator then takes a large wooden pail or tub with a short piece of pipe in bottom that fits the rotating valve, opens a little relief valve at top of spray tank and pours the mixture in. By the time the operator has got up a pressure of 125 pounds in the air tank and is ready to begin operations.

The machine is now ready for use. It is disconnected from the compressor and driven to orchard. When ready to throw spray, the valve in small pipe connecting air to mixture tank is opened a little. In two or three seconds the gauge on mixture tank will show 50 or 60 pounds of pressure. This is about the right pressure to throw a dense fog of spray. As long as nozzles are in use the little valve is left open slightly so that the pressure in the spray tank is constant at 50 or 60 pounds. When nozzles are shut off for a minute or two or longer, it is closed so pressure will not go high.

Now as to cost. For my purpose, all things considered, a gasoline engine seemed to be best. It cost $105, is two horsepower, weighs about 160 pounds. The barrel shown is half full of water, connected by pipes with water jacket of engine cylinder. The can upon the frame is the gasoline supply. I beat

FALL CANKERWORM.

Its Life History and the Methods in Vogue For Fighting It.

Very destructive insects are the cankerworms. Though easy to conquer if properly treated, the annual loss due to their depredations is very considerable, and it would seem that many persons have yet to learn the methods of fighting this old time pest. There are two species of cankerworms more or less common wherever apples are raised, the fall cankerworm and the spring cankerworm. The fall worm is perhaps the more common, and is a single brooded insect, which lays its eggs early in the autumn or early in spring. The egg hatches out a small caterpillar that grows to the length of nearly an inch. It varies greatly in color, but is usually gray or almost black, striped with yellowish or greenish. Being a measuring worm, it has less than the ordinary number of legs, six true legs near the head and four false legs near the posterior extremity, with an extra rudimentary pair on the fifth abdominal segment. When full grown, it descends to the ground and usually buries itself sometimes several inches beneath the surface. Here it forms a cell by turning round and round and changes to the pupal stage. Late in the fall, from the middle of October to the time when the ground becomes frozen, the adults emerge and lay their eggs on the branches of the trees. Many of the moths do not emerge in the fall, but remain in the ground till spring. When adult, the two sexes differ greatly in appearance. The male is a pretty moth, with ash gray front wings marked by three transverse darker lines and hind wings of silvery gray. The female, on the other hand, is not provided with wings, but has to crawl wherever she goes. She is somewhat more robust than the male and ash gray in color marked with black.

The fact that the female cankerworms are wingless and must creep from the ground to the branches of the trees in order to lay their eggs gives an excellent means of fighting them. If we can head them off and prevent them from crawling up the trunks of the trees, the eggs cannot be deposited on the twigs, and no harm will result.

FALL CANKERWORM.

A. male; B. female; C, D, E, structural details; F, G, H, eggs; I, larva; J, pupa of female. To accomplish this end various devices have been tried, such as hanging the tree with paper and on this spreading printers' ink or catnip leaf or any thing sticky enough to prevent the caterpillars from crawling up. Perhaps the best band is made of cotton batting. A strip of this is wound around a tree trunk and fastened securely by a string at or below the spidre. The upper end is now turned down, forming a loose, stuffy mass, in which the insects get entangled and die. This method has one disadvantage. The bands have to be kept on from the last of October until spring is well advanced and must be removed after rain or when the cotton loses its sticky nature. As the worms feed upon apple, elm, cherry and some other trees precautions must be taken to prevent them from breeding on these trees and again infesting the fruit trees.

The best method of overcoming these pests, however, is by spraying. The readily used a spray of one of the arsenicals (see chapter on insecticides), which should be applied early as soon as any worms are seen, even before blooming, but never during the period of bloom. It may be necessary to repeat the spraying, but this method is by far the cheapest and most satisfactory.

Notes and News.

It has been particularly noted at the Rhode Island station that where a greater amount of nitrate of soda has been applied annually to grass land sown with clover, red top and timothy a far greater proportion of the crop consisted of timothy than where less of it was applied or than where it was omitted.

The heads but not the stems of sunflowers are made into silage. In growing onions in Bermuda the land is enriched with well rotted cow or pig manure. The seed is sown in September and the crop harvested from January to May. A rigid system of inspection covers all shipments to the United States.

This country has come to be without peer in the world as to the number of agricultural implements and machines both as to quality and number.

Under the recent act for the protection of game animals and birds among birds the most general prohibition is that against the shipment of quail. All but 12 of the states prohibit export of these birds. Among the exceptions are seven southern states, Montana and North Dakota, but in Montana the sale and in North Dakota the killing of quail are at present unlawful.

The approaching Argentina wheat harvest, which begins with December, will be watched with great interest, as it figures largely in the world's trade. Present talk is that it will be a bumper crop. But this crop is an uncertainty till fully harvested.

LEGION MAY NOT BE OUT.

Question as to Whether Mustering Officer Henry Is of the Militia.

The Louisville Legion may not have been mustered out after all. Gen. D. R. Collier, formerly Adjutant General, says that Col. Jouett Henry, who was ordered by Mr. Beckham to muster out the Legion, was mustered out himself, and consequently is not an officer of the State Guard.

When the three Kentucky regiments went into the volunteer service in 1898, Gov. Bradley mustered out the First and Second regiments, retaining the Third in the State Guard in order to keep up Kentucky's quota and secure the government's annual appropriation. But after the return of the Third from Cuba the Governor mustered it out.

This, it is claimed, put Col. Henry out of the service and rendered his acts void in mustering out the Legion. If this is correct Mr. Beckham will have to have another ceremony before Col. Henry's regiment will be out—Evening Post.

Progress in the Philippines.

By this time it is known throughout the Philippines that the candidate for President who proposed to surrender the sovereignty of the islands has been defeated. The people of the United States have expressed their purpose to stand by the full obligations of the treaty with Spain. No further temporizing on this point can be advised by the Tagal leaders, the Hong Kong Junta or their emissaries in Paris and elsewhere. The purpose of the United States, approved in a general election, are now clearly defined. It is no surprise to hear that thousands of armed natives are coming in to take the oath of allegiance.

They now know that the authority of the United States will be and tend to impress the rebellious natives with the power and firm intentions of this country. Prospects of rapid pacification are excellent.

It is a significant fact that no prominent American observer in the Philippines believes that the natives are capable of conducting a government of their own or that they can soon reach the necessary qualifications. They are not a unit in race or language. A score of native dialects are spoken in Manila alone. Schools are opening under an American superintendent and are carried on at night for those who can not attend during the day. The Philippines never have been pacified in any stage of their history. Spanish occupation was confined to a few places. The savage element and the ladrones have never recognized the existence of law or of civilization. What the United States is doing, with as much benevolent forbearance as is practicable, is to confer upon the islands the social order and enlightened advantages they have never known and could not know if left to themselves.—Globe Democrat.

Fortune of War.

That portion of the message that deals with the Philippines is especially interesting. "The fortune of war," says the President, "has thrown upon this nation an unsought trust which should be unselfishly discharged, and devolved upon this government a moral, as well as a material, responsibility toward these millions whom we have freed from an oppressive yoke." Nothing imperialistic in that utterance.—Globe Democrat.

Maude R. Adams, of Dayton, O. Writes.

Gentlemen—The requirements of the last society season, late hours, promiscuous eating and irregular habits left me a physical wreck. Sick headaches, indigestion and a sluggish condition of the organs were my daily torment until I tried Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Yours is truly a household remedy with us. Gratefully yours, MAUDE R. ADAMS. Sold by St. Bernard Drugstore.

How to Cure Croup.

Mr. R. Gray, who lives near America, Duessess county, N. Y., says: "Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the best medicine I have ever used. It is a fine children's remedy for croup and whooping cough. When given as soon as the child becomes hoarse, or even after the croupy cough has developed, it will prevent the attack. This should be borne in mind and a bottle of the Cough Remedy kept at hand ready for instant use as soon as these symptoms appear. For sale by St. Bernard Drugstore, Earlinton; Ben T. Robinson, Mortons Gap; Geo. King, St. Charles.

OUR COLORED CITIZENS.

Voices were cast last week after we went to press.

The contest will be decided January 1st. The marked price of ten sets is forty-six dollars, but as it is for the school, a reduction is made. Hence we are compelled to have forty-three dollars. So vote earnestly.

Misses Gatewood and Hawkins attended the third annual session of the Second Congressional District Teachers' Association which was held at Henderson Friday and Saturday. They report a most excellent time. While they were there, they were entertained by Rev. Mrs. P. H. Kennedy.

Wm. Hines visited school Monday.

The colored Baptist church is going to reorganize the Fifth Sunday in December 1900.

Uncle Hill Nunn is dead and gone after a long life of faithful honest work in the sphere where his lot was cast. He was one of the oldest and most respected colored citizens of Earlinton and was always found on the right side, and striving to help along the betterment of his own people and the community at large to the best of his ability. A good old man is gone and there are many people, white and black, who will always remember him most kindly.

We have a nice Sunday school so come and bring your children.

Mrs. Mary Willis was quite sick last week.

Mrs. Mitt Parker and Bailey Sturd are very sick.

Some tramps cut a hole in Tom Lane's hay horse Saturday while coming from Madisonville.

Ananias Wood, the mighty (lar) fills the newspaper men with tales of how he tied up four mines on Saturday and "crippled the rest," and the correspondent sits on the railroad track and interview a driver who quit the Monarch Company, and then rush madly to the telegraph office to tell the public that twenty-one men walked out of the Monarch mines. As six men did quit work on that day, the newspaper men gave out much more truth than a usual one, my mine was "tied up," nor was any mine in Hopkins county "crippled." The usual Saturday's output was made. The output for the week was above the average.

Wood's "strike" order took effect the 26th—up to this time 26 men (ten days) have quit work in Hopkins county. As a man quit, his place was at once filled. The next morning, after the six men quit Monarch, fifteen men applied for work.

Just four men, out of the 1800 St. Bernard men, have left the service of that company. The newspaper men must be excused, for news is now scarce. The election is over, the war in Africa is ended. Peace will soon be declared in China. The Filipinos are locked out of duty, the Jim Woads and his provocateurs are the next best thing for the "news" gatherers, and such news! The war correspondents of the past were not in it.

Some inquisitive colored men went Secretary Treasury Campbell to tell how much money he gets from one coal company on the O. & N. Railroad for keeping it and "looting" and how much of "gift" money he turns over to the hungry and ragged strikers, the U. M. W. do not support, and these same folks would like to know from Jim Wood if he too gets "dividends" from any coal company, and they also would like to know how much he pays these clerks in his restaurant at Central City—whether he pays the scale.

Some excited mine workers at Central City represented by Bassom, Ward, Lusk, Hangham, Holland, Doss and others are quite anxious to visit Hopkins county and take the "scabs" out. One Richardson is to lead 'em right into Sheriff Hankins' open arms, unless the "scabs" get them first, which is most likely. How these excited creatures have about "Old J. B."—But Hopkins County men work away as usual, the coal goes to the market, and but for the blatherers of the U. M. W. and the silly newspaper correspondents, nobody would know that President Mitchell "permitted" a strike in Hopkins Co.

For Malaria, Chills and Fever

THE BEST PRESCRIPTION IS Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic.

The formula is plainly printed on every bottle—hence you know just what you are taking when you take Grove's. Imitators do not advertise their formula knowing that you would not buy their medicine if you knew what it contained. Grove's contains Iron and Quinine put up in correct proportions and is in a Tasteless form. The Iron acts as a tonic while the Quinine drives malaria out of the system. Any reliable druggist will tell you that Grove's is the Original and that all the other so-called Chill Tonics are imitations. An analysis of Grove's will show that Grove's is superior to all other Chill Tonics and that you are not experimenting when you take it and excel.

COMPRESSED AIR OUTFIT IN THE FIELD.

The hot tube with charcoal. That is the stuff I have found that will not blow out on a windy day. The compressor cost $40. Engine runs 400 revolutions, size of pulley ten inch, belt three inch. With only 125 pounds maximum pressure and the fact that in changing the compressor stops no water jacket is really necessary, although I use a little water in the jacket.

The tanks can be made in any manufacture of soda water or bottle's supplies. They are known to the trade as "air tanks." They can be had in any size, as I tested to 200 pounds or more, are not very heavy and cost last winter $15 each for 50 gallon tanks. Every one knows what nozzles, hose and connections cost. Used with a water wheel and axle for the carts. The framework costs possibly $5 for each.

Compress and Cotton.

In an experiment at the Alabama experiment station, a plot of land planted in peas the year before produced at the rate of over 600 pounds of seed cotton per acre more than another plot planted in cotton the year before.
